

Prof. Federico Rotondo

frotondo@uniss.it

Associate Professor of Business Administration

Department of Humanities and Social Sciences - University of Sassari

SHORT BIO

Federico Rotondo is an Associate Professor of Business Administration in the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of Sassari, where he teaches Business Administration, Tourism Management, and Business Strategy and Policy. His main research interests and publications focus on public management, healthcare management, air transport management, tourism management, with reference to networks, corporate governance, and sustainability in the context of higher education.

CURRENT RESEARCH INTERESTS

Airport management, Performance measurement systems in healthcare, Sustainability in higher education institutions.

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS & WPs

Giovanelli, L., Rotondo, F., Ezza, A., Forthcoming. Overcoming 'departmentalism' to facilitate SDG achievement: evidence from Italian state universities. Public Money & Management 0, 1–12.

Rotondo, F., Fadda, N., Ezza, A., Giovanelli, L., 2025. The impact of sustainability orientation on performance in higher education. An empirical longitudinal investigation. Journal of Cleaner Production 504, 145429.

Giovanelli, L., Rotondo, F., Fadda, N., 2024. Management training programs in healthcare: effectiveness factors, challenges and outcomes. BMC Health Services Research 24, 904.

WORKING PAPERS

- “The evolution of Italian airport ownership” (with Ison S. and Budd L.), accepted at UTSG 2025, Dublin, 25-27 June
- “Functional and dysfunctional consequences of performance measurement system in multilevel governance health systems” (with Giovanelli L., Fadda N. and Mannion R.) presented at the IRSPM Conference 2025, Bologna, 7-9 April.

PHD SUPERVISION

Cassandra Polo - XXXVI cycle - Post-doc at the University of Sassari (co-supervised with Prof. L. Giovanelli – University of Sassari)