Subject: Save the date : call for application for our Erasmus+ Week at UCL, Lille - 24-28 April 2023

To:

Dear Colleagues,

Greetings from Université Catholique de Lille!

The call for application for our Erasmus+ Week in April 2023 is now officially open.

As our University has chosen Innovation in teaching-learning and Sustainable Development as two major strategic research and action fields across the whole campus, our training week will be mainly focused on these two topics. Of course, there will also be some time devoted to networking and meetings with your colleagues in Lille.

Please find below some practical information that will be completed in January.

When?

24 to 28 April 2023

Who?

Colleagues from partner universities of Université Catholique de Lille, involved in sustainable development and/or innovation projects in teaching and learning, and internationalization at the home university. We might have to limit to one representative per university.

Where?

Université Catholique de Lille, Lille, France

<https://www.univ-catholille.fr/en/our-colleges-institutions>

What for?

- General program:

Innovation in teaching & learning (visit of labs and facilities, presentation of innovative teaching techniques and specific trainings to foster innovation amongst students and professionals), innovation for internationalization.

Sustainable Development (presentation of UCL's project for a 0-carbone campus; visit of eco-friendly buildings; presentation of interaction with local partners and student participation; integration of SDG's in students' programs).

(more information to come in January)

- Bilateral meetings with French colleagues
- Cultural and linguistic immersion
- Networking with an international group

How to apply?

Candidates are invited to send CV and/or description of their project and a motivation letter in link with sustainable development and/or innovation to their Erasmus coordinator.

Coordinators at the home institution nominate candidates and send the documents to erasmus@univ-catholille.fr before February 15, 2023.

Cost:

Participants will cover transportation, accommodation, most of the meals and other expenses. UCL will offer 2 lunches and 1 official diner.

Some administration fees might be required (max. amount: 100 €, more information in January).

We are looking forward to welcoming you in Lille,

Season's Greetings
